Cap and Cino

This month our friends learn a lesson about eating too much chocolate!

Cap and Cino are most unusual friends. You see Cap is a cat and Cino is a dog and that is certainly quite peculiar.

Easter had come and gone and all that remained was a pile of cardboard, plastic and foil in the recycling boxes – a lot of chocolate Easter Eggs had been eaten by our friends! To be precise, Cino had consumed ALL of his seven eggs – mostly by the end of Bank Holiday Monday, but Cap had tried to be a little more sensible and he still had one egg hidden under his bed! Schools were back after the Easter break and normal life resumed at Hawkes House, but not for Cino. You see, this particular morning he had awoken with an ache in his tummy and a pain in his teeth. He was not a happy puppy!

James found Cino howling in discomfort and asked what was wrong? “It hurts everywhere!” replied Cino. Cap told James that his friend had eaten all of his Easter Eggs very quickly and James soon realised that Cino had a tummy ache caused by eating too much chocolate too quickly. However, it was the tooth pain that James was a little more concerned about. “I think we need to visit the Dentist” James told Cap and Cino. He phoned their local Dental Surgery and asked if Cino could be fitted in that day as he was in a lot of discomfort. The kind and helpful people on the other end of the phone gave them an appointment of 2:30pm that day. James joked that 'Two Thirty' was his favourite time to visit the Dentist, but no one laughed!

At just before 2:30pm, they arrived at the Dental Surgery and let the people behind the desk know that Cino was there for his appointment. James tried to explain his joke from the earlier phone call but the people still didn't get it! After just a couple of minutes, the dentist popped his head around the door and asked them all to come in. Cino was invited to sit on a funny looking chair which was a bit like a posh seat from an aircraft. The Dentist was super friendly and once he had looked in Cino's mouth for a few seconds, he confirmed that all that chocolate had indeed caused the pain. “Will I have to have all my teeth out?” asked Cino with a worried look on his face. “No, certainly not” replied the Dentist. “On this occasion, we can just give them a really good clean and that will do the job”. But he warned Cap and Cino to be more careful with sugary sweets and chocolate and not to eat too much in one go. The friends got back to Hawkes House and rather than Hot Chocolate, James made them a nice cup of tea (with no sugar)! Visit us again very soon for more fun stories with Cap and Cino...
